PROFILE:

I am an Oxford University graduate currently studying for my Masters at GSA. I spent my year after graduating from my undergraduate degree working full time in hospitality whilst taking on roles in many productions at my local theatre. After studying Engineering for my first degree, this time made me realise that I had to follow my true passion for theatre. I am currently loving working and immersing myself in this industry, and am looking forward to furthering my career in Stage Management.

Most recent show I've seen:
Standing at the Sky's Edge at the National Theatre

When not at the theatre I am a keen horse rider, enjoying the constant problem solving thinking it requires.
